DEATH SUMMONS

A Gallant Confederate Soldier at the Age of Almost 86 Years.

The following account of the death of Capt. William Barnett Jones was sent out from Union, S. C., where he spent his last days:

"Capt. William Barnett Jones, who was for many years a well known citizen of Richmond, Ky., and who served in the war between the States with special distinction under Gen. Kirby Smith, is dead here, after an illness of several months at the home of his son, R. A. Jones. Captain Jones came to Union to make this his home on May 2 of last year, which was his 85th birthday, but it was not until about two months ago that he was stricken with an illness, from the effects of which he has gradually declined. Captain Jones was a man of a gentle, retiring disposition and temperate in all his habits. During the war between the States Captain Jones was such a brave and efficient officer that after the surrender, Gen. Kirby Smith is said to have taken him in his arms and said that he was the best officer in his command. Some of his war experiences were very thrilling. On one occasion a woman, the wife of a Federal officer, asked permission of him to pass through the Confederate lines that she might see her husband. Captain Jones gallantly acted as her escort. A day or two after this Captain Jones was captured and tried by court-martial, which was presided over by General Houck, the charges against him being that he was a spy, guerrilla and horse thief. This so aroused Captain Jones' ire that he declared it was a lie. Judge Houck then announced that he would hang him not only for being a spy, but for contempt of court as well. By a strange coincidence a member of the court-martial was the husband of the woman whom Captain Jones had escorted through his lines a few days before. This officer objected to the death sentence, and it was decided to send Captain Jones to Camp Chase. The charges still hanging over him, he was committed to a dungeon, but on demanding better quarters they were given him. In a day or so Judge Breck, a famous Kentucky lawyer, happened to see Captain Jones, whom he knew very well. Judge Breck, on account of his intimacy with President Lincoln, was enabled to obtain the immediate release of Captain Jones. The latter rejoined his command at once, but was soon recaptured with important documents in his possession. However, he escaped by making his guards drunk, for although he did not touch liquor himself, he evidently thought that this was an instance where 'all is fair in love and war.' When only 19 years old Captain Jones on his first visit to the South stopped over in Union. Nineteen years later he married Miss Mary Ruth Allen, whom he saw when she was attending school here at the old Female Academy taught by Mr. and Mrs. Murchison. Miss Allen was from Greenville, Tenn., but had come to school in this city because of the state of affairs in Tennessee on account of the war. He father owned much land and numbered among his friends here the Gist and Jeter families, which were very prominent and extensive. Of this marriage a number of children were born, those living being Dr. M. Ernest Jones, of Los Angeles, Cal.; Mrs. W. R. Potter, wife of the Presbyterian minister of Covington, Tenn.; and W. B. Jr. and R. A. Jones, who are in the mercantile and live stock business in this city. He leaves one brother, James Jones, who is an extensive planter of Fairfield county. Captain Jones was a brother of the dashing Major Joe T. Jones, of Capt. John H. Morgan's command, who, with Morgan, the Rev. E. O. Guerrant, who is widely known as the present head of the South Western movement, the Rev. Ben Bigstaff, who, in his day, was a celebrated evangelist, and Governor McCree, the present chief executive of Kentucky, were captured by the Federals and confined in prison at Columbus, Ohio, with many other prisoners, but these four, with two others, whose names are not known, by their daring managed to escape on November 27 by digging through feet of solid masonry and only one was recaptured. Captain Jones during his life was a farmer and stock raiser in Kentucky, though he brought his stock in many instances to this State to be marketed. He was an elder in the Presbyterian church for nearly fifty years."

The Real Trouble.

"Oh, doctor," sighed the patient, "I am so glad you have come. I feel dreadful, and I don't know what in the world is the matter with me. My husband says it is but nervous indigestion, but his mother is positive I am going to have appendicitis, and my mother declares I have intermittent fever, and my sister says it looks to her like creeping paralysis, and Aunt Henrietta says I've got malaria. What do you think I've got doctor?" Well, frowns the physician, "from these symptoms I should say offhand that you have too many relatives."

Confederate Reunion.

Macon, Ga., is making great preparations for the coming reunion to be held on May 7, 8 and 9, 1912. Col. Walter A. Harris, who is Colonel of the Georgia Militia, has been selected as general chairman, and is assisted by this corps of busy, business men, who are untiring in their efforts to make this the greatest reunion ever held in Dixie. The Sons of the Confederacy will have a very important and prominent part in the coming reunion, for with Commandant J. Marion Dummody, of the Thomas Hardman Camp, No. 18, is doing some very active work for the sons in the coming reunion. Mrs. Walter J. Lamar, head of the Georgia United Daughters of the Confederacy, as chairman of the Women's Auxiliary, is untiring in her efforts for the entertainment of the daughters, and those who know Mrs. Lamar is a guarantee that Macon will do her share in showing honors to the daughters. The Confederate Reunion of 1912 will be the greatest ever held in any city in this Southland. Thousands and thousands of dollars are pouring into the treasury of the General Reunion Committee, and every citizen of Macon is doing his share to make it a success. When the Veterans come to this "The Magnificent Center of Dixie," they will be extended a welcome of the kind they will remember until they answer the sound of taps.

True Friendship.

Speaking of friends, some one has aptly said that "our relatives are thrust upon us, but thank God, we can choose our friends." No one with a real friend can be without reason for gratitude to the Giver of such. "A friend is what the heart needs all the time." With passing years, I think most of us come to value true friendship above perhaps everything else. One of the very bitterest of life experiences is to find a trusted supposed friend wanting, when tried in the balances of unexpected circumstances. Again, one of the most blessed experiences is to know whom you can trust. "As the yellow gold is tried in the fire, so the faith of friendship must be seen in adversity." It is the blessed privilege of every one of us to be such a friend, resting assured that if we are we'll never lack one in our own time of need.

Peculiar Disease.

From several sections come reports of death among stock from some peculiar and puzzling disease. It has attacked and killed horses, steers, and, in some instances, hogs. The animals are suddenly seized with great pain, and act as if mad, or, as one man expressed it, "gone crazy." The suffering continues for a very short time before death. It is thought that it comes from eating fodder which has become decayed, or poisoned, by long standing in the shock. The financial loss amounts up to large figures.

Of the Chicago, Ill., packers in the trial now going on in that city, complained that "Swift infringed on our territory." The disputed territory was in New York and Vermont, and the question naturally arises: How did that territory or other territory come to be the exclusive property of Swift or anybody else? The answer is simple. Because Swift and the other packers, after driving the butchers in the local communities in New York and Vermont out of business, by underselling them, divided up the territory thus seized and called it their own. Of course, so it was theirs. Having stifled all competitors, both from within and without the district, they were left free to advance prices of meat to suit the dividends desired, and to call the territory "their own."

"War talk about placing any of the necessities of life on the free list" is the cry that goes up from the Stand-patters every now and then. "If this were done," they ask, "how could the government raise revenue to meet its expenses?" This is how. By levying an income tax and an inheritance tax, as does every first class nation on the face of the globe, save the United States of America.

About the easiest way for the building and aspiring young statesmen in the Kentucky Legislature to destroy their hopes and blast their ambitions is to vote against any single plank in the Democratic platform when it takes the form of a bill.—Elizabethtown News.

THE Chicago packers, now on trial, are having sent up by press agents a lot of junk attempting to prove that the meat robbers are a blessing to the consumers and producers. It should go into the waste basket with like communications.

The next National Democratic Convention will be held in Baltimore, Md., and June 25 is the date selected for the great powwow. The National Republican Convention meets in Chicago, Ill., June 18.

OLIVER M. JAMES was overwhelmingly elected United States Senator by the Kentucky Legislature, Thursday last. Mr. James succeeds Thomas H. Paynter, whose term expires March 4, 1913.

Dry Richmond Leads The Procession.

The Climax has had occasion to comment upon the remarkable achievement of several local insurance agents, who outstripped all other agents in their respective companies in the matter of business, winning first places for themselves and incidentally placing Richmond first among the cities of Kentucky in the grade of work accomplished.

Again it is our pleasure to note the continued success of our worthy fellow-townsmen, Mr. F. M. Silver, local manager of the great Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, which has an immense business with the industrial class of people, those who can pay only ten cents per week as a rule to protect their lives and those of their children. A late report on Mr. Silver's work shows that he ranks first for Kentucky in his company, as well as first among all agents east of the Rocky Mountains. We disclaim Mr. Silver with our compliments, but we desire to call attention to the fact that he attributes most of his success in collecting his premiums to the fact that Richmond is a dry town, whereas he says in the domain of wet towns in which he has labored, the saloons got the money which should have been paid by the policyholders upon the lives of themselves and their little ones. One drink costs only ten cents, but that dime also keeps a policy in force for one whole week. Instead of charity begging the road now, the Metropolitan Co. lays them away and leaves a surplus for the sorrowing ones left behind.

In order to reduce our stock of groceries, we have determined to make a reduction of ten per cent. for cash only. Every article in our mammoth line of groceries.

CURIOUS BITS OF HISTORY

A SEVEN DAYS' FISHERMAN KING.

By A. W. MACY.

In 1647, when the kingdom of Naples was under the grinding rule of Spain, a fisherman of Sorrento was passing to madness by the indignities offered his wife by Spanish officials, because she had attempted to smuggle a few handfuls of flour. So furious was he that he tore down an edict that had just been posted by the authorities. The whole population, including women and children, rallied around him. Forty years of Spanish oppression had made them frantic. They terrified the viceroys, resisted the soldiers successfully, and killed many of the Spanish residents. They secured a revocation of many obnoxious edicts, the abolishment of oppressive taxes, and full pardon for all who engaged in the insurrection. The fishermen, whose name was Meselelli, were the leader in all this, and became the ideal of the people. He ruled Naples for seven days, but his success seems to have turned his head. He became dictatorial and oppressive, and was put to death by the people. Hence he is called the Seven Days' King.

Representative Herrington Introduces Important Bills.

Representative I. B. Herrington, of this county, has introduced a number of important bills in the lower House, among which is a bill freezing the State Board of Health from domination by the school of medicine and appointing the Governor free reign in appointing members. Also the following:

Act to define duty of common carriers of freight respecting the speed of cars of live stock.

Act establishing and governing a geological survey of Kentucky and removing present survey and museum from Lexington to Frankfort.

Act to regulate lobbying and conduct of legislators and agents in Kentucky, requiring names of counsel and agents to be entered in a legislative docket and names of their employers.

Also requiring that employers at close of session, file with the Secretary of State a sworn statement of the amount paid counsel and agents.

Mr. Herrington was placed on some of the most important committees within the gift of the Speaker. His assignments were as follows: Judiciary, State University and No Mal School, Corporate Institutions, Insurance, Fish and Game and Executive Affairs.

Speaker Terrill published statements of fairness in selecting committees. He did not select Representatives Herrington, Perry, Mahin, Craig and several other members (all Scotchmen) a single chairmanship.

To The Voters of City of Richmond.

TO THE DEMOCRATIC VOTERS AND CITIZENS OF RICHMOND, KENTUCKY:—I hereby announce that I am a candidate for the nomination for the office of Judge of the Police Court of the City of Richmond, Ky., subject to the action of the Democratic party.

The only reason I have for making such an early announcement is that two highly esteemed gentlemen who will be my opponents in the race, have already announced in the newspapers, and I desire to have my candidacy considered while the claims are being presented.

I am soliciting and shall appreciate the support of all persons who are to participate in a primary election that will be held for the purpose of selecting Democratic nominees for city offices to be voted for at the regular November election, 1913.

I hope that in the minds of the voters I shall be deemed qualified to fill this important position in the government. In this connection perhaps I should state that I graduated from Central University. In the class of 1899, afterwards studied law in the Law Department of said university, was admitted to the practice of law in May, 1910, and am now a practicing attorney at the Richmond Bar.

I am nominated and elected to the office of Judge of the Police Court, I pledge myself to an efficient, faithful and conscientious performance of the duties of that office.

Oliver Broadus Escapes From Asylum.

Oliver Broadus, formerly of Richmond, who was adjudged insane and sent to the Eastern Kentucky Asylum made his escape from that institution Thursday night. The Lexington Herald says: "Oliver Broadus, formerly a local butcher who killed Debbie Harvey, last summer, and who was adjudged insane and sent to the Eastern Kentucky Asylum in Lexington, escaped from the latter institution early last night, and was still at large at an early hour this morning. Broadus was said to be in an excellent physical condition, and his escape was looked upon as a triumph during his confinement at the asylum. The police and asylum officials believe he may have left Lexington before his escape was discovered."

Death Is No Respector Of Persons.

But a glance at our death column will convince one of the old and oft repeated truth: "Death is no respecter of persons." It is a grim grim sweep of his ghastly hand he has cradled on the doors of four homes in our city, and claimed alike the young and the old. A tiny five-months old babe, recently dropped like a feather into the lap of motherhood, and innocent of everything, save a mother's fondling and cuddling; an aged great-grandmother, who, by reason of strength, had long since passed her three score and ten years and looked upon life as a tale that was told; a handsome young man, in the very glow of manhood, claiming only a few weeks ago the bride of his youth, with every promise of love and happiness in front of him; the lovely mother, past the prime and yet not old—these all have been claimed, and have joined the silent majority. Such are the above sad cases to pause and think how great is the sorrow of the world.

Grand Opera in Lexington.

It is a long time since Kentucky has been treated to a performance of grand opera in English, and consequently the coming of the Aborn English Grand Opera Company to Lexington, following their highly successful engagements in Louisville and Cincinnati, is creating widespread interest in this part of the State.

This company will give three performances at the Lexington Opera House on Monday and Tuesday, January 22nd and 23rd, embracing a repertoire of three operas of widely different character, and by three different composers. Offenbach's famous opera, "The Tales of Hoffman," which was one of the most decided successes of Hammerstein's memorable career at the Manhattan Opera House in New York, will be given as the initial offering on Monday night. Verdi's immortal "Il Trovatore," one of the most richly colored and universally popular works of all times, will occupy the Tuesday matinee. Puccini's masterpiece, "Madam Butterfly," probably the greatest work by any living composer, and one about which residents of this part of the country have heard a great deal without having an opportunity to see and hear it before, will be given for the third performance on Tuesday night.

The Aborn forces number one hundred singers and musicians altogether in its double cast, large chorus and grand opera orchestra, and carries over all carloads of scenery, costumes and effects. The double cast arrangement includes two sets of principal artists, who alternate with one another, each singer appearing at only two performances of each week. The entire array of talent will be heard during the three performances in Lexington, some at one performance, and others at another, including Edith Helena, Jane Ahrenschild, Elaine De Selles, Rose Fulton, Leonard Samoiloff, Domenico Russi, Louis Krieger, Morton Adkins, William Schuster, Philip Fain and others, with Carlo Micholis as conductor.

On account of the many inquiries Manager Scott of the Lexington Opera House has received concerning this event, he has decided to inaugurate a special system for the filling of mail orders from music lovers in the cities and towns within convenient distance of Lexington and the cities are coming in rapidly from many points within a radius of thirty or forty miles of that city. All mail orders should be accompanied by money orders for the required amount for seats specified, made out to Manager Scott, Lexington Opera House, Lexington, Ky.

The price for seats at the two evening performances will be $2.00 and $1.50 on the lower floor, and $1.50, $1.00 and 75c on the upper floor, while those for the Tuesday matinee will be $1.50 and $1.00 on the lower floor, and $1.00, 75c and 50c on the balcony.

Announces for Re-election.

In the proper column in today's Climax will be found the announcement of Judge W. R. Shackelford for re-election to the office of Judge of the Madison County Court, subject to the action of the Democratic party. Judge Shackelford is serving his first term as County Judge, having been elected to this responsible and important office two years ago. His administration thus far has been one of the best ever administered by any official in this capacity. He has succeeded in putting the county on an excellent financial basis, and has administered the affairs of the county in a most economical manner, and has applied the law to all alike. He has fulfilled every promise made before his election and has, indeed, been the judge of his court during his tenure of office. As a result the community has benefited greatly by his wise business-like measures, and no one can doubt the fact that Judge Shackelford, during his two years in office, has faithfully discharged the difficult duties with patience, industry and talent. He has given to the taxpayers of the county a strictly business administration, and the fiscal affairs are in first-class condition today as a result of his vigilance and business sagacity. Madison county is now a cash basis, paying cash for pike and other work, credit for which must largely be given to this official. Judge Shackelford will appreciate an endorsement of his administration and solicits the influence and support of every Democrat in the county, and promises in the event of his election to continue to do so. He has a constitution with the same ability and zeal that has characterized his present administration.

A SENSATION IS NOW PROMISED

Lively Testimony in Case of State Revenue Agents.

BOTH SIDES SEEM PREPARED

While Those Behind the Legislative Inquiry Declare They Will Be Able to Reveal Amazing Conditions, the Revenue Agents and Their Friends Say They Have Done Nothing to Cause Them to Shrink.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 16.—Investigation of the state revenue agents, which was begun Monday, promises to bring out some of the liveliest testimony that has been heard in Frankfort for a long time. Those behind the investigation claim that they have secured sensational testimony, which will disclose amazing conditions. The revenue agents and their friends say that nothing until the bill comes up in either the house or the senate. It was reported that Bill Brown and his friends would try to have the joint Democratic caucus nominate Finley Fogg for prison commissioner, he being a candidate and the being the term at which an election for that office is scheduled to be held.

But the prison commission seems to have given up the fight. They say they have not quit the contest and have merely adopted another plan of action. It is believed that a change in the method of electing the commissioners is certain, and there will not be any effort to prevent some change. Harvey McCutchen, a member of the commission, gave out a statement which indicated to many that he had quit the fight and would accept whatever was done. Mr. McCutchen says he has not quit, that he is standing by his guns and that he means just what he said in his card. In that card he said he favored the election of the prison commissioners by the people, declaring that this was the method favored by the Democratic platform, which urged that the people be given a chance to elect what they wanted.

In the makeup of the committee to which will be referred railroad bills, the railroad operating in Kentucky were given a black eye, as the men who compose the house and senate committees are known to be antagonistic to the railroad, or certainly not favorable to them. Time was when the railroad had committees favorable to them. In one session of the legislature, that of 1908, not a meeting of the railroad committee in either house ever was held during the entire session, and not a single railroad bill was reported.

But it is to be different this year. In the house of the chairman of the railroad committee is Representative Williams, who was a conductor on the C. & O. Railroad and one of the leading members of the railmen's union. He comes to the legislature pledged to try to establish certain reforms in railroad laws, and will try to have enacted a new employer liability law which will help those injured in railroad accidents.

Lieut. Gov. McDermott, presiding officer of the senate, sprang a new one on the senate last week when he caused more talk than anything that has happened during the present session. He proposed to have the senate adopt a rule providing for the formal consideration of measures, the presiding officer and his staff, the working force of the senate. He suggested that every morning the employees of the senate gather in the private office of the lieutenant governor, and at the hour appointed to call the senate to order, the procession start for the senate chamber. The sergeant at arms was to lead the way, followed by the presiding officer of the senate and with the clerk and assistant clerks following. The sergeant at arms was to announce to the senate:

"The lieutenant governor of Kentucky, the presiding officer of the senate, and his staff, are now in the senate chamber. The senators then were to stand with heads bowed while the lieutenant governor entered and took his seat. This plan did not meet with the approval of the senators to whom it was mentioned, and the proposed resolution was not offered in the senate. Gov. McDermott was serious in making the suggestion, but did not mean to convey that he thought he was better than the members of the senate. He merely wanted all the decorum necessary carried out in the senate.

The senate was all stirred up by reason of adoption of a rule to exclude lobbyists from the floor of the senate. The rule was so drastic that everybody was excluded. The way it applied was shown by a conversation which was had between a senator and Finley Fogg, a member of the prison commission. The senator complained that more ministers had not attended the senate session to open the proceedings with prayer. Mr. Fogg said:

"The reason they don't attend, is because your old rules are so strict they can not get in."

When two of the state officials were refused admission to the senate floor and the clerk of the house also was denied admission, there was a storm of protest and the senators went to work to amend the stringent rule. Dr. C. F. Greenleaf, the Secretary of State, was denied admission when he went to the senate with commissions of notaries public, to have the appointments confirmed by the senate. The rule excluding lobbyists from the floor of the senate still prevails, but the rule has been so modified as to permit state officials and former members of the legislature to enter.

The adoption of the rules in the house was marked by the first clash of the administration and anti-administration forces, an outcropping of the race for the speakership. In this fight the speaker was defeated by the man who was his opponent. The following day the House of Representatives, united with the Republicans to beat the rule in the house requiring two-thirds of those present voting in favor of a change to amend the rules or suspend the order of business. Mr. Schobert opposed the two-thirds rule wanting it left so that a majority could change the order as between the men classed as strictly administration and anti-administration as legislators.

Kentucky is to have a new mansion for the governor if a bill offered by Representative Hamilton, of Frankfort county, is passed. The bill, one of the first introduced, appropriates $75,000 for the erection of a mansion and specifies that the mansion shall be located on the ground adjoining the capitol.

HON. OLLIE M. JAMES.

they are not afraid of the investigation as they have done nothing of which they are ashamed. They also say that they have lively and sensational testimony that they will offer to offset the testimony that may be introduced against them.

The revenue agents say that the investigation will not be one-sided by any means, and that they propose to give a motive for the investigation. There promise to be several angles to the investigation and before it is finished it will involve many men and many measures. The present auditor does not want the office of auditor's agents abolished, although he is willing to have modifications in the existing law made. He does not want to give up the power to collect delinquent taxes by means of his agents and says that the agents are necessary, to a certain extent.

Be this as it may, the fight against the present system of auditor's agents is to be one to the death, and every effort will be made to have the office abolished, the middle ground not being considered. In the fight against the auditor's agents, the Louisville Times is taking a big part and has been leading with editorials attacking the system.

A bill will be followed in the senate this week that may solve the problem of how to elect prison commissioners. The bill proposes to have four commissioners, two to be elected at the present session of the legislature, by the legislature and two every two years thereafter, the law expressly stating that no commissioner shall be eligible to succeed himself. It is stated by the author of the bill, that this would give Finley Fogg, who is a candidate for commissioner, a chance to be elected at the present session, as he expected, and it would give the other commissioners the remainder of their term, or two years more on the commission. It may be that both sides will accept this solution of the problem, at any rate the members of the legislature will be given a chance to vote for or against it.

Frank Kavanaugh, State Librarian, made his first speech when he was nominated by the Democrats of the house and senate in joint caucus Thursday night. Mr. Kavanaugh, who has been librarian for four years and is a member of the legislature since the time when the memory of man runs back to the contrary, is the most modest and diffident young man in the state, and he surprised everybody by making a speech after his nomination. It was not as though he was nervous, but he was given an unexpected nomination. He has had ample time for preparation. He has been working for votes ever since the last caucus which nominated him, four years since, and he had them all corralled; that all but six out of the 108, and the six really were for him. He was not content with a majority of the Democratic members of the two houses, but went after them all. He was nominated by acclamation, his opponent failing to get anybody to make the nomination against Mr. Kavanaugh.

No effort was made from the prison commission to have a nomination for prison commissioners made at the joint caucus and it is likely that those opposed to the governor nominating the commissioners will lay low and say nothing until the bill comes up in either the house or the senate. It was reported that Bill Brown and his friends would try to have the joint Democratic caucus nominate Finley Fogg for prison commissioner, he being a candidate and the being the term at which an election for that office is scheduled to be held.

But the prison commission seems to have given up the fight. They say they have not quit the contest and have merely adopted another plan of action. It is believed that a change in the method of electing the commissioners is certain, and there will not be any effort to prevent some change. Harvey McCutchen, a member of the commission, gave out a statement which indicated to many that he had quit the fight and would accept whatever was done. Mr. McCutchen says he has not quit, that he is standing by his guns and that he means just what he said in his card. In that card he said he favored the election of the prison commissioners by the people, declaring that this was the method favored by the Democratic platform, which urged that the people be given a chance to elect what they wanted.

In the makeup of the committee to which will be referred railroad bills, the railroad operating in Kentucky were given a black eye, as the men who compose the house and senate committees are known to be antagonistic to the railroad, or certainly not favorable to them. Time was when the railroad had committees favorable to them. In one session of the legislature, that of 1908, not a meeting of the railroad committee in either house ever was held during the entire session, and not a single railroad bill was reported.

But it is to be different this year. In the house of the chairman of the railroad committee is Representative Williams, who was a conductor on the C. & O. Railroad and one of the leading members of the railmen's union. He comes to the legislature pledged to try to establish certain reforms in railroad laws, and will try to have enacted a new employer liability law which will help those injured in railroad accidents.

Drafted Bank Examiners' Bill.

Judge J. A. Sullivan, of Richmond, who is regarded as one of the closest men to Gov. McCreary, is spending a few days in Frankfort. Judge Sullivan is the author of the bill providing for a State Department of Banking with a commissioner, deputy commissioner and three examiners. This measure, which will be backed by the administration, is ready to be introduced in both branches of the General Assembly and will be pushed to passage. The bill has bipartisan features and is endorsed by the financial institutions that operate under State charters.—Louisville Times.

False Arrest Due To Odd

Tangle.

The following from the Frankfort

News Journal will be of interest here, where the parties involved live:

"My reason of an odd combination of circumstances, Tobe Munday was indicted in Madison county on a charge of obtaining money by false pretenses. He was promptly acquitted, when the prosecuting attorney was informed as to the real facts. Munday then sued A. L.

Gott and Creed Gott, charging false prosecution, but the Circuit of Appeals says that the lower court did not err in dismissing the petition. Munday owed

Gott Brothers $18 and paid them with a check. When the Gotts deposited the check, they did not endorse it, and it reached the bank in Lexington on which it was drawn without the endorsement.

That bank refused to pay the check because of the failure to endorse it, but the check was returned to the Madison county bank, marked "No Funds."

Munday then was indicted, but it was shown that there was a mistake. The court here says that the Gott Brothers were not the proximate cause of the indictment against Munday.

Nicotine Poisoning.

Tommie, the 7-year-old son of Elijah Donathan, died at his father's home, near Owensville, the result of nicotine poisoning caused by chewing new tobacco. The boy, it is said, went to the barn at his father's home where employees were stripping tobacco, and getting hold of some of the strongest tobacco, chewed it and swallowed some of the juice. This he did several days in succession, being encouraged to chew the tobacco, it is said, by older boys who thought only to see him sick. The boy did get sick and the doctors could give him no relief.

Operation Successful.

Rev. George W. Shepherd, formerly pastor of the Baptist church of this city, came over from Winchester last week, and is now at the Gibson hospital, where he was operated upon for the removal of a fatty tumor which had formed under his right arm. The operation was entirely successful, and the patient will soon be entirely recovered. Mrs. Shepherd accompanied her husband, and will remain with him until he is able to return home. Rev. Shepherd has many devoted friends in this city who will be glad to learn that he has recovered from the operation.

New Species of Clover.

A new kind of clover, said by those who have experimented with it to produce many tons of feed to the acre, has been discovered on the Pacific coast. The plant is a native of Tillamook county, Ore., and is called "perennial clover." It is a species of the clover with alkali food values. It perpetuates itself from node buds and has no seed or flower, seed or sex. It grows in winter as well as in summer and frost does not interfere with or stop its growth.

The Danger of La Grippe

It is the final tendency to pneumonia. To cure your la grippe coughs take Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. R. E. Fisher, Washington, Kas., says: "I was troubled with a severe case of la grippe and nothing I used did me any good, and I was threatened with pneumonia. A friend advised me to use Foley's Honey and Tar Compound and I got some at once. I was relieved from the very first. By the time I had taken three bottles my la grippe was gone. I believe Foley's Honey and Tar Compound to be the best medicine I ever used and always keep a bottle with me. Sold by Stockton & Son, druggists, 1m Short Hemp Crop.

The hemp crop is being marketed and is commanding from $3.50 to $6.00 per hundred. The crop is an unusually short one. The hemp crop in this county a few years ago amounted to upward of three million pounds, but has dwindled down until now it registers not more than 100,000 pounds. The farmers who formerly raised hemp were turning their attention to tobacco, which they find more remunerative. Lancaster Record.

Supervisors in Session.

The Board of Tax Supervisors of Madison county have been in session for several days, and will probably adjourn until some time next week. Quite a number of changes have been made, some assessments being lowered and some raised, but the aggregate will not be greatly changed.

WORM LOSSES IN STOCK

HOW OLD PEOPLE

May Prolong Their Lives

At an advanced age waste is more rapid than repair. The organs act more slowly, and less effectively than in youth. The circulation is poor, the blood thin and watery, the appetite poor and digestion weak.

We want to say to every aged person in this vicinity that Vinol, our delectable food liver and tonic (without oil) will prolong life. It creates an appetite, aids digestion and makes good blood. In this natural manner Vinol retards waste and replaces weakness with strength, giving new life to the worn system.

If people in this vicinity only realized how Vinol invigorates old people we would not be able to supply the demand for this tonic.

Try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that your money will be returned if it does not help you.

Bald Heads Not Wanted

Baldness is too Generally Considered a Sign of Advanced Age.
A bald-headed person does not have an equal chance with one blessed with a healthy head of hair, because baldness is too generally accepted as an indication of age. Many large corporations have established an age limit, and refuse to take men over 35 years of age as employees.

Probably 65 per cent of bald-headed people may regain a good head of healthy hair if they will follow our advice and accept our offer. We have a remedy that we positively guarantee to grow hair on any head, unless the roots of the hair are entirely dead, their follicles closed, and the scalp has become glazed and shiny. We want people to try this remedy at our risk; with the distinct understanding that unless it does exactly what we claim it will, and gives satisfaction in every respect, we shall make no charge for the remedy used except the cost of the medicine. We know exactly what we are talking about, and with this offer back of our statements no one should doubt our word, or hesitate to put our remedy to an actual test.

We want every one in Richmond who is suffering from baldness or hair trouble, dandruff, falling hair, or baldness to try our "303" Hair Tonic. We want them to use it regularly—until three bottles have been used—and if it does not gradually dislodge, cleanse and refresh the scalp, lighten the hair in its roots, and grow it back again, we return every cent paid us for the remedy for the mere asking. There is no formality expected, and we exact no obligation from the user whatsoever.

We are established right here in Richmond, and make this offer with a full understanding that our business success entirely depends upon the sort of treatment we accord our customers, and we would not dare make the above offer unless we were positively certain that we could substantiate it in every particular. Remember, you can obtain Retail Remedies in the community only at our store—The Retail Store, 11 L. Perry's Drug Store.

Zemo Makes Astonishing

Eczema Cures
"WE PROVE IT."

Every day ZEMO gives relief and cures men, women and children in every city and town in America, whose skins are afflicted with itching, burning, scaly, and crusty skin and scalp humors.

ZEMO ANTISEPTIC SOAP, the only SOAP, two refined preparations will give you such quick relief that you will feel like a new person.

We give you three reasons why we recommend and endorse ZEMO and ZEMO SOAP for all skin and scalp ailments.

1st. They are clean, scientific preparations that give universal satisfaction and are pleasant and agreeable to use at all times.

2nd. They are not experiments, but are proven cures for every form of skin or scalp affection whether on infants or grown persons.

3rd. They work on a new principle. They do not graze over the surface, but they penetrate to the seat of the trouble and draw the germ life from under the skin and destroy it.

In this way a complete cure is effected. ZEMO SOAP is a complete cure for all skin and scalp ailments. Endorsed and sold in Richmond by Perry's Drug Store.

Sheep Statistics.

According to a Census Bureau press proof issued at Washington City, Kentucky's sheep statistics are as follows: On 20th farms reporting or 26 per cent of all Kentucky farms, 4,414 sheep of shearing age were found in the State.

This is seventeen sheep to a farm. From 1900 to 1909, 10,000 pounds of wool were purchased, an average of 1 1/2 pounds per head. On 20th farms, 4,414 sheep of shearing age were found in the State.

This is an average value per fleece of $1.55 or an average per pound of 27c. In 1900 the money value was $0.63, due to the fact that 7,021 fleeces were produced, the average value per fleece being, however, only 9c. The 1910 value of the entire crop was $7,738 and the average $1.55 or less than the average Kentucky fleece value.

NO REASON FOR IT.

You Are Shown the Way Out.

There can be no just reason why any reader of this will continue to suffer the tortures of an aching back, the annoyance of urinary disorders, the dangers of serious kidney ills when relief is possible and proof given that these ills can be cured. The following is convincing proof.

John W. Forman, 8 Montgomery street, Mt. Sterling, Ky., says: "I think my kidney trouble was the result of heavy work. I was compelled to give up all work that required stooping on account of a weak and lame back. I had been laid up for several days at a time, and some time ago began to look around for a cure. Until I began using Don's Kidney Pills I did not find anything that would prove of benefit to me. I was soon well and strong, and now I am entirely free from kidney trouble. I am pleased to give Don's Kidney Pills my endorsement."

These are the morning it's nice to be bed-ridden.

Charles Durham, Lovington, Ill., has succeeded in finding a positive cure for bed wetting. "My little boy wet the bed every night clear through to the floor. I tried several kinds of kidney medicine and I was in the drug store looking for something different to help him when I heard of Foley Kidney Pills. After he had taken them two days we could see a change and when he had taken two-thirds of a bottle he was cured. That is about six weeks ago and he has not wet the bed since."

The Truth of the Matter

The man who writes advertisements for clothing is often apt to tell a lie without intending to do so. Fact is we would rather tell the truth all the time, but the habit of talking about 30 DOLLAR SUIT for TEN and describing CHEAP CLOTHES as the finest ever, when every one knows they are not, grows upon one till the polite lie slips away from the pen and are printed, too, almost before a person knows it. So when you find us saying (as you do in this circular) that our entire stock of fall and winter clothing will be sold during this OUR GREATEST LOOM END SALE at half price, or as nearly half price as possible, don't think we are LYING. Believe us, we are telling you the plain truth. Our clothes are good, durable, well made and full of style. The name on our clothes, the makers name "Schloss Bros." is your guarantee of quality

WE feel that our buyers have covered themselves with glory in their campaign against competition for good merchandise at low prices for this, our crowning event, in sales-giving. Not a single market, not a single mill or factory that had merchandise to offer at a price far below the cost of manufacture that was not visited by our buyers. They were like blood hounds on the trail and every thing that would add to our already big stock of seasonable goods and gladden the hearts of our customers was gobbled up by them for cash down when goods were boxed up. We've got them for you this time. You can come expecting to buy goods at the lowest prices ever quoted you for the best brands and latest styles in all kinds of merchandise. Not only do we offer you LOOM ENDS of every conceivable kind, but we offer in addition our entire stock in every department at Loom End Prices. You know when we make this assertion we mean it. You have either attended our sales or heard of them. Make no mistake. Everything will be just as advertised in price and quality. Come and get your share. Read every price quotation we name, we can't name but a few as space won't allow. But visit us during this big sale and see the price tags in every department telling you how to save money on every purchase. Notify your neighbors to meet you at our big store
